HISTORICAL SKETCH.

THE distinct religious history of Fair Haven dates from the great revival in 1808. Thirty-eight of its inhabitants were then received into neighboring churches; and the Friday night prayer meeting was organized, which has ever since been maintained. Another revival was enjoyed in 1816; and still another in 1821, when forty were converted, and a Sunday School originated by Dea. Amos Townsend. The First Church of Christ was organized June 23d, 1830. Precious revivals marked the years 1832, 1848, and 1851. Large accessions finally made a division of the flock desirable; and on the 25th of March, 1852, a colony of ninety-three members withdrew, and was organized by the New Haven East Consociation, March 31st, 1852, under the name of the Second Congregational Church of Fair Haven. On the same day was dedicated the house of worship already erected by the Second Congregational Society.

Before a pastor was secured, a division occurred, resulting in the dismission of forty-one members to organize (May 3d, 1853) the Center Church of Fair Haven, which maintained an existence for ten years, when it was disbanded and many of its members returned to the Second Church.

Multiplied proofs of divine favor were granted during the ministration of successive pastors; but the most remarkable revivals were those experienced in the years 1872 and 1877.

The Ecclesiastical Society, by which the temporal affairs of this Church are managed, was formed March 23d, 1852, with nine members. It now has a membership of 150. At the first meeting they received the new edifice from the original stockholders, on which $9,075 had been paid. In 1863 the remaining debt was paid, amounting to $6,804. The chapel was built and furnished in 1872, at a cost of $6,000. General repairs and improvements were made in 1876, and the aggregate church property is now estimated at about $30,000.

At the time of its organization the Church adopted the Constitution, Confession of Faith and Covenant that have been in use to the present time. In July, 1877, they were revised, as hereafter given, by the unanimous approval of the brethren.

For further historical facts, see the former edition of this manual, published in 1865, and also the Centennial Discourse on "Fair Haven," published in 1876.

CONFESSION OF FAITH.

1. We believe in the only living and true God, who is a Spirit, infinite, eternal, and unchangeable, in his being, wisdom, power, holiness, justice, goodness, and truth; who exists in three persons, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, the same in substance and equal in power and glory; who created all things, whose purposes and providence extend to all events, and who is the moral governor of all intelligent creatures.

2. We believe that the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments were given by inspiration of God, and are the only infallible rule of faith and practice.

3. We believe that man was originally upright; that our first parents freely sinned and fell; and that all their descendants are sinners, and until renewed by the grace and Spirit of God, are without holiness, and under the condemnation of God's law.

4. We believe that God in his infinite mercy has provided a way of salvation, through his Son, Jesus Christ, who taking upon him our nature made full atonement for sin by his own sufferings and death, after which he arose from the dead, and ascended into heaven, where he ever liveth to make intercession for his people; that every sinner, who turns to God, by repentance, with faith in his Son, is freely pardoned and will be saved; and that the soul once made partaker of saving grace, will never be permitted so to fall away as finally to perish.

5. We believe that the Holy Ghost applies to us the redemption purchased by Christ, working faith in us, thereby uniting us to him, and making us partakers of justification, adoption, sanctification, and the ensuing benefits of full assurance of faith, peace of conscience, growth in grace and perseverance therein to the end.

6. We believe that a Christian Church is an association of disciples for worship, fellowship, and mutual watchfulness and culture; that Baptism and the Lord's Supper are the only sacraments, the former to be administered to believers and their households, the latter to none but believers.

7. We believe that our Lord Jesus Christ will come again in glory, to raise the dead, and to judge the world; that he will condemn the wicked to everlasting punishment, and receive the righteous into life eternal.

Do you thus believe?

THE COVENANT.

Now in the presence of God and of this assembly, you do solemnly declare the Lord to be your God, Jesus Christ your Redeemer, and the Holy Ghost your Sanctifier. Confessing and renouncing your sins, you do promise that, by the aid of Divine grace, you will deny all ungodliness and worldly lusts, and live soberly, righteously and godly in this present world, receiving in love the pure doctrines of the Gospel, walking in the statutes and ordinances of the Lord, honoring your holy vocation by a life of piety toward God, and benevolence toward your fellow men.

You do furthermore covenant with this Church that, so long as you continue a member of the same, you will submit to its discipline, avoid all causes of scandal and offence, promote its peace and purity, growth and prosperity, and walk with its members in Christian fellowship.

Do you thus promise and covenant?

WELCOME OF THE CHURCH.

We, then, as a Church, do heartily welcome you to our communion, giving thanks to God, who has inclined your heart to fear his name; and we, on our part, do covenant to watch over you in the spirit of meekness and faithfulness, and to pray for your growth in grace, joy in the Holy Ghost, and eternal salvation through Jesus Christ our Lord.

BENEDICTION.

The Lord bless you and keep you; the Lord make his face to shine upon you and be gracious unto you; the Lord lift up his countenance upon you and give you peace. AMEN.

STANDING RULES.

1. This Church is Congregational in its government, is included in the "New Haven East Consociation," and is in special fellowship with other orthodox Congregational Churches.

2. Persons seeking admission as members of this Church, on a profession of their faith, must first give satisfactory evidence of conversion; and, having been publicly propounded, may be received by a vote of the members; after which they shall publicly assent to the articles of faith and enter into covenant with the Church.

3. Members of other churches, wishing to commune with us, are expected to transfer their relations within a reasonable time, one year being the limit ordinarily allowed; and members of this Church removing from the place, should, within a year thereafter, transfer their relation by a letter of dismission to a Church where they reside, or give satisfactory reasons for delay.

4. Persons joining us from other churches, shall exhibit valid testimonials of Christian character, after which they may be received by a vote of the members, and a public assent to the covenant.

5. Every member of this Church shall be held under its watch, care, and discipline, until regularly dismissed by vote of the Church.

6. The exercise of discipline has for its ends the removal of offenses, the edification of the Church, the honor of religion, as well as the benefit of the offender himself; and it may take the form of admonition, reproof, suspension from privileges, or exclusion from the Church.

7. In all cases of private offenses, the rules given in the 18th chapter of Matthew shall be strictly observed; and if any one shall needlessly spread the knowledge of an offense he shall be liable to censure.

8. In cases of public and notorious offenses, which cannot be removed by private measures, the Church, as a body, must call the offender to account, in the way that shall be considered most agreeable to the directions of the gospel. Judicial process, however, should be commenced only where charges are accompanied by a strong presumption of truth; and the trial should in all respects be fair and impartial.

9. No person shall appear as counsel for a member who is under discipline, except one who is a member of this Church, or a minister of the gospel who shall be approved by the Church for that purpose.

10. All business brought before the Church shall be determined by the votes of a majority of the members present; provided, that in the election or dismission of a pastor, or a deacon, and in determining a case of discipline, none but male members who are of age shall be allowed to vote.

11. The Pastor of the Church shall be chairman, or in his absence one of the deacons, or a member selected by those present; the chairman shall decide questions of order, and have a casting vote should the votes at any time be equally divided.

12. The Standing Committee of this Church shall consist of the Pastor, the Deacons, and two other brethren who shall be annually chosen. Their powers and duties shall be as follows:

(a.) To examine and advise candidates for membership on profession of their faith; to inspect the testimonials of those coming to us from other churches; and to report on these matters to this Church.

(b.) To consider and investigate cases of discipline coming before them by complaint or otherwise, and to report to the Church both the facts ascertained and the measures proper to be taken in each case.

(c.) To summon before them any member accused of any offense, to examine witnesses, and to call upon any of the members of the Church to aid them in reclaiming offenders.

(d.) To prepare any other business which, in their opinion, ought to come before the Church.

13. There shall be chosen, annually, a clerk, a treasurer, and a historian, who shall each present a written report at the annual meeting.

14. The Sabbath School shall be under the direction and care of the Church, by which also its rules shall be prescribed and its officers chosen.

15. The Annual Meeting of the Church shall be held on the last Friday evening in March, when official reports shall be presented on benevolent contributions, the Sabbath School, and the general interests of the parish.

16. Special meetings of the Church may be called at any time by order of the Committee.

17. Whereas experience has proved the use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, and the traffic in the same for that purpose to be a great evil, we therefore regard it as a sin for any member of this Church to engage in such use or traffic.

18. No alteration or amendment shall be made in these Standing Rules, or in the Confession of Faith and Covenant adopted by this Church, unless by the votes of two-thirds of the members present in a church meeting called for that purpose.
